

The benefits of registering

Organizations registered with HIGH FIVE® feel reassured that they are participating in a national standard that is based in research which empowers them to embed quality assurance measures throughout their organization. They gain peace of mind that the children in their programs are safe and happy.

Below are the top 3 ways that organizations feel they benefit from HIGH FIVE:

Recognition	Creates public acknowledgment as a quality service provider	Allows increased access to funding through grants and foundations through public and private grants	Enhances staff moral as part of an organization that actively makes a difference in children's lives
Risk Management	Reduces liability by meeting the industry Standard of Care	Creates a proactive versus reactive culture in providing quality experiences for children	Outlines areas of strength and weakness in programming, policies and procedures using reports accessed within the HIGH FIVE Database
Leadership Development	Provides training, tools and resources that allow staff, supervisors and managers to reach their full potential as facilitators of healthy child development	Builds a cohesive team by providing a common language and goal	Contributes to professional development of staff by identifying weaknesses in programming using reports accessed within the HIGH FIVE Database
