PlayChips

For playground surfacing, certified Denbow PlayChips are used and trusted by schools & daycares, municipal parks, and private playgrounds throughout the Pacific Northwest. Denbow has been producing quality engineered playground chips for more than 2 decades.

Denbow PlayChips weave together to form a soft, spongy surface that is easy to walk and safe to play on. PlayChips have a better critical height than most playground surfacing materials. Children will sometimes fall - but with the proper depth of PlayChips, landings can be safer.

Did you know?

Across Canada, 28,500 children are treated every year for playground injuries, and three-quarters of those incidents result from children falling onto inadequate play surfaces that fail to buffer their falls. Processed specifically for playground surfacing, Denbow PlayChips knit together to provide a softer landing for playground falls. Denbow uses top quality pulp grade chips to make the highest quality Playchip.

! Denbow certified PlayChips are manufactured with whitewood from BC sawmills. They are certified, meeting ASTM 1294 standards with IPEMA Certification

Remember

Regularly monitor the condition of the playground surfacing (generally every 4-6 months) to ensure it still provides children with the fall protection they need. Proper depth is 12" after compaction. Occasional raking will keep the material looking fresh all year-round, and will maximize its fall attenuation properties.

To keep all your playground surfacing at the proper depth, ask about our easy, exclusive PlayChip Top-Up program.
